UTAH POWER WINS IN GAMES ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

After putting up their best exhibitions since the season opened, away from home, the Utah Power and Light team of the Tri-county baseball league delivered the goods yesterday afternoon at Glenwood park, giving a large crowd of local fans nine innings of classy entertainment. The score was 6 to 4, in favor of the Utah Power team, but the defeat was no disgrace to its younger opponents as they played errorless ball.

An error in judgment on the part of Manager "Shorty" Williams of the Utah Power team, coaching from the bench, and a timely hit by Pitcher Harry Greenwell, was responsible for the turning of the tide in favor of the "Power" men. It was the second half of the fifth inning and the Utah Power team were two runs to the good. Reardon got a single and Myers followed with a fly into left field, which looked like a sure putout for Louie Falck. Manager Williams yelled for Stanger to take it, an impossible try, and Myers was safe. Upset by the fluke, Pitcher Child passed Duncan, filling the bases, and Greenwell chased Reardon and Myers in with a single, tying the score. Greenwell and Duncan then registered on Vandiver's single and "Van" went out with Butterfield on a snappy double-play, Child to Fagan.

Four hits and a passed ball, gave the Utah Power team three runs in the second inning and their fourth was made in the eighth inning by Williams, who, with Stanger, staged a double steal.

The first run of the game was made by Vandiver, the first man up, who knocked the second ball pitched over the east fence for a home run. "Van" scored again in the third inning and headed the batting column with a perfect score, 4 hits out of four times at bat.

The work of the Utah Power infield had the fans on their feet at several stages of the game. Duncan, the "Power" catcher was caught twice between third base and the plate and Greenwell was run down by Fagan on the third base line, these plays being of the type to set a box scorer "on his ear."

SPECTACULAR RECORD HURDLE RACE ON PACIFIC COAST

Remarkable action picture of 120 yard hurdle race that produced a world's record on the Leland University track on the Pacific Coast recently. On the extreme right is East Thompson, of the University of Southern California, who won the race in the sensational time of 14 4-5 seconds, tying the world's record made by Simpson, of Missouri, the week previous. Behind Thompson is Halstead; then comes Norton, Fred Murray (brother of Lindley Murray, the national indoor tennis champion), Fred Kelley the former national hurdle champion, and Williams. Last week at the intercollegiate championships in the Harvard Stadium at Cambridge, Mass., Murray went the distance in 15 seconds flat, but the wind was behind him. Thompson did not compete in the intercollegiate. It is doubtful if his record will be allowed by the A. A. U. officials.

Saturday's Game.

Saturday's game was lost to the Utah Power by the indifferent pitching of "Chet" Allen and the air-tight support given Shipley, by George Wessler's gang. Allen allowed 15 safe hits and was found 15 more times, but good support saved these from going against his record. The best defensive work seen on the local diamond for a long time, was that of the Utah

Power & Light team, Shipley being the only player to have an error recorded against him. The other members of the team accepted 45 chances without wobble. Up until the seventh inning, the Utah Power defense was equally good, but the youngsters blew up at that point and registered five errors in two innings.

The star of the contest was Louie

Falck, who made a sensational running catch of a long fly in the second inning, caught another in the ninth and got three hits out of three times at bat. "Bric" Shupe evened Falck's fielding record and also got three hits, but he had two more chances at bat. Vandiver and Wessler were the infield stars and a three-base hit by Reardon was also a feature.

WOLGAST SAYS HE CAN WHIP WELSH

Many Former Pugilistic Champs Hurling Defies at Regular Fighters—Pack-
ey McFarland Wants to Come Back.

New York, June 4.—The graces in the pugilistic graveyard have opened and many of their former inmates are stalking around sporting defies at the live ones. As they wriggle in their shrouds they shout that they are "white goods" or better than the joke fighters of today, and brandish their skelton fists as exhibit "A."

Jim Barry, who was stroke out in George Washington's boat when it crossed the Delaware, is most conspicuous among the resurrected. Pugilistically dead and buried for many years, Jimmy arises and jibbers about being able to dispose of a few of the heavies. He is browsing around now in search of matches while the joke fighters are searching for their missing charge.

Tommy Burns, a great fighter in that period just preceding the Christian era, "came back" a short time ago, beat a joke warrior, and now thinks that with a little training he can go right out and whale consciousness out of Jess Willard. And then there's Carl Morris, the first "white hope," who once fought and so decisively, Carl "retired" a year or so ago. But the smell of the rosin and the lure of the gold were too powerful—and Carl is back.

Other Boxers Return.
Ad Wolgast, walloped time and again by second-raters, still insists that he can beat Freddie Welsh and spends most of his waking hours trying to force him into a fight. The same thing goes for Johnny Coulon, one-time bantam titleholder. Johnny is old, as fighters go, and his iron-like endurance is gone. But Johnny is sure that right now he could whip easily either Kid Williams or Kid Ertle.

The presence of the gentle spring-time has affected Abe Attell, too. The old king of the feather years for "just one more fight," and he wants it to be against Benny Leonard, the best lightweight in the game today. Billy Papke, who won the middle-weight championship from Stanley Ketchel—and then lost it back—wants to fight again. He's been out of the ring for a long time, but, taking it from Billy, he's quite capable of putting away a lot of the "middleweight shiners."

Now, if someone will please page David, who won the championship from Goliath Alexander, world's champion some centuries ago, and Napoleon, the roster of pugilistic ghosts will be complete. Then let us have a battle royal between the phantoms.

Packey McFarland also has heard the blare of the trumpet of ringdom.

Gabriel, The Chicagoan	announced	after his fight with Mike Gibbons last	summer that he was through with the	game for all time. But now Packey	wants to return long enough to take a	few swats at Jack Britton, the so-	called welterweight champion. Brit-	ton claims the championship through	his New Orleans victory over Ted	Lewis. Packey insists Britton's claim	to the championship is not warrant-	ed by his record. Packey wants to	fight Britton to prove that he is bet-	ter than the New York "champion."	Packey longs to retire with some	sort of championship. He couldn't	force Ritchie or Welsh into the ring	with him in a decision bout before	he outgrew the lightweight limit. Now	he is picking on Britton with the hope	of meeting and then beating him and	thus acquiring a crown.

Los Angeles, June 4.—The Angels dropped both games today to the Beavers, 4 to 1 and 4 to 0, and with them the series also went glimmering, four games to three games. It was a bad week for Chance's men on the home lot.

Both of today's games were lost simply because the Angels could hit neither Hagerman nor Sotheron, getting but seven swats in the two contests, against eighteen for McCredie's men.

Strandridge and Horstman both pitched well, excepting in one frame.

It was at this time that the damage was done.

How It Happened.

In the seventh in the morning,

Southworth and Guisto singled. Rodgers walked and Fisher sent them all in with a double.

Guisto did the same thing in the afternoon in the eighth. After Willie,

Vaughn and Southworth had singled and were dancing like dervishes on the bags, Guisto slammed the ball to deep right center for a double, and all of them came in.

The Beavers' other run came in the seventh as the result of singles by Southworth, Speas and Rodgers. The whole truth is the Seraphs were outclassed. Score.
